

Once upon a time, long, long, long ago before the Earth and all the planets were born, the Star Mother and the Star Father were lonely and decided they wanted children to love and play with.

So the Star Mother and the Star Father came together with a kiss and merged together. The power of the love that they wanted to share was so great, that there was a cosmic explosion or as we call it now, a Big Bang and the Star children were born!
